Headline:
Cold overnight. Staying cold Sunday with sunny spells and showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cold and clear at first with temperatures falling to around freezing, and frost developing in prone inland spots. Cloud will increase during the early hours of Sunday, especially along the coast, with isolated showers possible, along with brisk northerly winds. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Sunday:
Brisk winds, sunny spells but also occasional showers, wintry across highest hills. Isolated hail, or perhaps thunder possible. Highest temperatures along coasts, but colder inland, and especially in the breeze. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Dry, largely sunny with lighter winds Monday and Tuesday, and turning less cold. Fog patches possible early Wednesday, then largely fine. Chance of cloud and rain spreading southeast later.
